

Offices for Johns + Gorman Films, Hollywood, California

with Schweitzer BIM, 1992

Our clients came to us after they had grown out of their existing space. They had purchased a historic building on Hollywood Boulevard and they requested our services for the interior and exterior renovation. Their program was comprised of offices for directors, a production area, a sound booth, lounge area and kitchen. I acted as job captain and was directly involved in all phases of the 16-month project from conception to completion. My responsibilities included schematic design and client presentation, design development, production of construction documents, bidding and negotiation with contractors, and project administration.

Detail of lounge

Corridor adjacent to lobby

View of rear entry

Looking down to conference space

View of corridor adjacent to entry